NEW INDUSTRY IN KARAKUL SHEEP IS SEEN BY UPLANDER

Head of Fur Farm Here Tells Lions of Project and Possibilities

Great possibilities for the development of a Karakul sheep raising industry in this district were described by Harold K. Hemingway at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Red Hill Country club house at noon yesterday.

He spoke on the basis of his 3½ years experience with the sheep and with the realization of the fact that two million fur pelts are imported annually to supply the demand.

"It will take at least 10,000 Karakul sheep to supply the Los Angeles market," Mr. Hemingway said, and added: "This valley should become the center of the fur-producing industry." Only a few hundred sheep are in this district now.

FARM ON BENSON

The Karakul fur farm was established by Mr. Hemingway on Benson avenue at Thirteenth street in recent years. The herd there now totals 340 head, including an addition this week of 28 sheep Mr. Hemingway recently purchased. Some of the sheep are owned by individuals and are kept on the farm on a commercial basis. The local pioneer in the fur-production industry, however, owns a large number in the rapidly-increasing herd.

"The speaker sees possibilities in the industry because of the demand for fur, because of the supply being imported and because of the ease with which the sheep can be raised. Pelts are obtained from day-old lambs. Care of the valuable sheep is similar to the common variety of sheep, he said.

FURRIER ON JOB

Mr. Hemingway's business has increased to the point where he has established a retail store and has engaged a resident furrier to show garments and to serve the general retail-buying public.

To illustrate his informative talk, Mr. Hemingway displayed a $700 coat and also a 10-day old lamb.

Henry Busch was program chairman. J. W. Mehl, president, presided. Norman S. Lawson made a report on the recent soap box derby, sponsored by the club last Saturday.

Hershell Henson Now At Randolph Field

Hershell R. Henson, son of Mrs. Willie Henson, 402 North Campus avenue, is now at Raldolph Field, San Antonio, Texas, having gone there two weeks ago to continue with his air corps flying course. After ten weeks at Randolph Field, Henson expects to go to Kelly field for further training. He was graduated from Chaffey junior college in 1938, and before going to San Diego was employed at Downey.

Young Henson is among the first group of air corps flying cadets to receive flight instruction under the army's expanded training program, where primary flight training is now being given on an enlarged basis at commercial flying schools instead of at Randolph Field.

12-ROOM DWELLING FIGURES IN DEAL

Music Co. Official Trades With G. G. Larfield for Alta Loma Property

Taft B. Schrieber, vice-president of the Music Co. of America, with offices in Los Angeles and throughout the nation, has chosen Alta Loma as the site for his "country home".

Mr. Schrieber is today the owner of the G. G. Larfield residence, 1574 Hellman avenue, Alta Loma. Change of ownership was made through a trade of property, Mr. Larfield obtaining an apartment house in Los Angeles. The new owner is reported to be planning extensive alterations and additions. Twelve rooms make up the dwelling at present.

As an executive of the music company, the new Alta Loma property owner supplies many of the nation's largest orchestras.

Mr. and Mrs. Larfield, who have resided in Alta Loma nearly six years, will divide their time between Los Angeles and one of the beach cities. He is a contractor and he will remain in this district until several houses now under construction are completed.

J. L. Short, 716 North Second avenue, who has been seriously ill of pneumonia for a number of days, has been taken to the Santa Fe hospital in Los Angeles, where he is receiving special care. An encouraging report from the hospital was received Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Short, the physician stating they were well pleased with a slight improvement in the patient's condition. Mrs. Short and their daughter Miss Marian Short, who are spending part of the time at the hospital, returned there today after spending the night here.

MUSIC SHOULD BE FUN FOR CHILDREN, SAYS TEACHER

An orchestra composed of 35 Upland junior high school students made its debut at the first assembly of the school this week.

The joy which these young musicians exhibited in the presentation of their first program, given only ten days after school started, encouraged their director, Charles B. Jones, to talk of the increased interest in orchestra playing and of the part which music education plays.

"Because orchestra playing is a group activity, it makes music interesting," commented the orchestra leader. "Drudgery was associated with the inevitable piano lessons a decade ago, but playing beside fellow musicians in an orchestra is fun.

"Parents often destroy real music ability in their children by the severe now-you-get-your-practicing-done attitude. Encouragement of a young musician just beginning to play an instrument is necessary, however, and a parent's help is often a determining factor in the making of a musician. But the parent's attitude should be one of help and encouragement, rather than one of criticism and compulsion.

"The most difficult period for any musician is at the beginning.

GRAPEFRUIT BAN URGED BY ANDREAS

Assemblyman Sponsors Resolution Protecting California Fruit

Designed to decrease the amount of grapefruit being shipped into California from Arizona is a resolution on record in the state assembly today, it being introduced by Godfrey Andreas at the recent special legislative session.

"Some measure of protection may be afforded to the grapefruit industry under the state health and plant quarantine laws," according to a copy of the resolution the Uplander brought with him on returning this week from Sacramento.

While not a large volume of grapefruit is produced in this immediate district, Mr. Andreas said adoption of the resolution would further protect the California citrus industry. At present much grapefruit is brought into the state from Arizona in bulk by trucks and such practice is "likely to be detrimental to public health and to cause danger of plant infestation in this state," Mr. Andreas said.

The resolution concludes as follows: "That the assembly goes on record as opposing any practice or condition detrimental to the grapefruit industry, the public health, or the safety of agriculture, and be it further resolved, that the department of agriculture and all other law enforcement agencies are hereby requested to enforce vigorously all laws.

Mrs. Mei spoke at the Riverside Presbyterial World Fellowship conference at the Upland Presbyterian church.

OCTOBER TO CLOSE VALENCIA SEASON FOR MOST HOUSES

Two Local Packing Plants Report End of Run For Oranges

In three or four weeks, machinery in the orange packing houses in this district will cease running, as another Valencia season draws to a close.

Two packing houses in the district—Alta Loma Heights Citrus Association and American Fruit Growers—have completed Valencia runs. American Fruit Growers sent the last Valencias on September 19 to market, while the Alta Loma association completed the season a month ago. Both of these houses, however, ship lemons also, so the houses continue in operation all year.

END IN OCTOBER

Upland Citrus Association expects to complete the Valencia season the third week in October. Between now and then about 30 cars will be shipped.

With seven or eight more cars to ship, Mountain View Citrus association will continue in operation through October.

Cucamonga Citrus association will operate until the middle of October, sending out seven or eight more cars.

Old Baldy Citrus association will not end its season until the first of November. About 15 cars are still to go from this house.

ONE CAR TO GO

Upland Cooperative Groves will close the season in several weeks with one or more cars to move.

Stewart Citrus association will send about 10 more cars to market between now and the first of November, it is expected.

Andrews Brothers closed the packing house which they have been operating south of Santa Fe depot about a month ago.

Upland Heights Citrus association Valencia season will probably continue into November with approximately 20 cars to go forward between now and then.

E. M. Henderson packing house is still operating on Valencias.

Charles F. Eppler, local contractor, is the owner of the property being rapidly developed. Demand for new houses has exceeded expectations and it is predicted that construction of new residences on the tract will continue for some time.

"LENIENT" PENALTY GIVEN TWO YOUTHS

Boys Breaking Gates to Enter Local Closed Area Are Reprimanded

Penitent in court, Kenneth Allen, 24, and John Grippi, 20, of Sierra Madre, were reprimanded severely when they appeared for sentence in Judge Fred H. Jacobs Upland justice court yesterday. Judge Jacobs accused them of "wanton disregard of government property and of laws designed to protect the federal forest and watersheds."

The boys were apprehended by two Los Angeles bureau of light and power employes last Sunday when they were found in Cucamonga canyon, in a closed area, shooting pigeons.

Assertedly, they resisted the light and power men, threatening them with a revolver. Herbert M. Foss and William J. Fielding, the two men who found the boys, did not appear in court yesterday.

Judge Jacobs sentenced Allen to pay a fine of $50 and to serve five days in county jail, and Grippi was fined $25. Deputy District Attorney C. O. Thompson told the boys that the sentence was "extremely lenient".

The fire hazard involved was stressed by Judge Jacobs when he sentenced the boys. The youths ignored a sign at the entrance to a closed area, forcing down a gate in order to gain admittance. On leaving the area, they broke a second gate.

Cousin of Upland Woman Injured by Italian Air Raid

Italian-British conflict in Africa may seem remote to residents of Upland, but to Mrs. E. E. Pember, 117 West Arrow highway, the war there possesses special significance.

A cousin, Dr. Kenneth Oglesby, medical missionary, and his wife, were seriously injured by an Italian air raid a month ago.

A cablegram received recently by another cousin, Miss Daphne Oglesby, in Santa Barbara, sister of the injured missionary, contained the news that the Oglesbys were still alive. The relatives of the Upland woman were serving under the Baptist board of foreign missions. The air attack occurred at Doro, Sudan, interior Egypt.

Italian bombs were dropped on the mission station, killing two missionaries and injuring others.

DEVELOPMENT TO FOLLOW AIRPORT BOND ELECTION

Ontario Plans Facilities Large Enough for Major Lines

Development of Ontario's new municipal airport probably will be started by the city within a short time, following the passing of the $150,000 bond issue on Tuesday.

Approximately $85,000 of the amount of the bond issue will be spent for the 460-acre site, while $65,000 will be reserved for development of the first part of the project.

Included in the original development plan is a 3500 foot runway. Eventually, if demand arises, space will permit a 6000 foot runway, which is larger than any runway in any metropolitan airport in Los Angeles today.

Eventually, the Ontario airport might become a terminus for transcontinental air lines, civic leaders say.

A small administration building and a hangar are also included in the first development plans.

A portion of the area purchased is being reserved for prospective industrial sites. In fact, it was because of the possibility of attracting new payrolls to this section that the bond election was suggested. The aeronautics committee of the Ontario chamber of commerce is endeavoring to interest new industries in locating here.

Ontario voted 4 to 1 Tuesday in favor of the bond issue. One-third of the citizens voted, casting 2,080 votes in favor of the project and 507 against it.

Upland Housing Authority members, who include G. A. Hanson, chairman; Paul Schowalter, W. C. Scheu, Everett W. Henry and Dr. Lilian F. NEW 1941 FORD

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skilful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride. New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.

About People and the Community

Quite a few people in Upland have suggested recently that ornamental trees should be placed along the curbs in the business district. Another distinctive improvement would be the illumination of the pepper trees at the intersection of Euclid avenue and Foothill boulevard.

Ontario voters no doubt surprised southlanders with their 4 to 1 approval of a $150,000 bond issue. As a rule bond issues are not popular, but this one evidently was very popular in the neighboring city, being looked upon as an opportunity to secure new industries.

Uncommon today is the old family garden, but G. A. Blaney has one large enough to serve many, many families. And it is good enough to produce prize winning vegetables. His garden entries at the L. A. county fair won seventeen firsts and eight second place awards.

How about one-way drive on Euclid avenue? No, nothing can be done until the P. E. track is removed. At least, that is the last report from the city hall.

Just to spend his week ends in this district, Taft B. Schrieber of Los Angeles has purchased a country home in Alta Loma. He is head of the Music Company of America . . . and his selection of this nearby community as the location for his "pleasure" home, gives us quite a boost.

If E. Tweed Stone were writing this editorial he would caustically go after the L. A. Times because of what he calls "tripe' in its Sunday edition funnies . . . Have you seen Upland's display at the huge L. A. county fair? The local C. of C. exhibit is really the outstanding attraction in the main exhibit building. Fred Draper's fine collection of old coins is exhibited along with entries from elderly women in the fair. We don't know why . . . and neither does Fred.

MUSIC SHOULD BE FUN, SAYS JONES

Upland Junior High School Instructor Discusses Cultural Work

Few children will practice without the assistance of a parent. After the first few years, when a child's interest is aroused, the parent's part is not so important," Mr. Jones continued.

BEST AGE

"When is the best age for a child to start music lessons?" the musician was asked.

"That depends to a certain extent on the child and what instrument he wishes to play. For violin or piano, it is usually not too early to start when the child is in the first grade. For wind instruments, which cannot be made in miniature sizes, it is not wise for a child to begin below the fourth grade."

CULTURAL VALUE

Although a child does not intend to follow music professionally, the value of it in his life cannot be overestimated, says Mr. Jones. For one thing, familiarity with music makes appreciation of it more keen. Also, a musical education is a cultural education, and knowledge of it will give him a greater joy in living.

"What about modern swing music? Does playing it injure a child's technique?"

In answer to this, Mr. Jones replied that he felt definite good was gained by this music. In the first place, it develops a musician's technique. In wind instruments, especially, nothing develops a player so much as playing in a dance band. Also, this music, which is buoyant and slap-happy, appeals to youth.

"In teaching classical music to children, teachers often overlook the fact that the child is not mature enough to fully appreciate it. Therefore, in classical music played by the beginning orchestras, it is written down to the students."

PRACTICE EACH DAY

Each day from 12:30 to 1:15 p. m., the Upland junior high school orchestra practices. In many instances, students cannot afford private lessons, and therefore most of their instruction must be gained at school. Mr. Jones gives individual help to as many students as possible. He teaches each morning at Chaffey high school and devotes his afternoons to Upland. A band is to be organized at the junior high school for the first time this year.

The Upland Elementary school orchestra is not organized as yet this year, but it will probably not practice more than twice a week. Mr. Jones also directs this orchestra.

The importance of private lessons for children was emphasized by Mr. Jones. Excellent private instruction is available in the Chaffey district in all instruments, he said.

Parents who would like to consult Mr. Jones regarding the musical education of their children are welcome to call him.

ADVANCED STUDENTS

Among the more advanced musicians in the local junior high school orchestra are Stanley Gunstream, solo trumpet player; Charles Pooler, trombone; Glenn Maxie, trumpet; Annette Linkey, piano; Doris Hall, Lola Books, Betty Beard and Dick Meredith, violin; Beth Hamilton and Roy Eells, clarinet, and Bob Ready, saxophone.

Mr. Jones is a graduate of the well-known Eastman school of music in Rochester, N. Y. His special instruments are the violin and French horn.

Building activity has put new and greater demands on all branches of the electrical business, according to C. E. Mrs. Laura Taylor, Formerly West End Resident, Succumbs

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Granger of San Antonio Heights and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde D. Duvall, went to Los Angeles today to attend funeral services for Mrs. Granger's sister, Mrs. Laura Taylor Kelly, who passed away Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elise Kelly Thorpe, 4457 West Fifth street, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Kelly, whose husband was the late Judge Frank A. Kelly, was widely known and for many years she held state-wide prominence in the Republican party and in club circles.

Mrs. Kelly and her husband came to Los Angeles in 1901 from New Lexington, Ohio, where Judge Kelly presided as superior court judge. Mrs. Kelly at that time was active in public affairs and after Judge Kelly's death she continued her political and women's club work and she was a member of the state welfare board during Governor Richardson's encumbency.

Mrs. Kelly resided for a time on San Antonio Heights and became well known locally. She also lived for several years in Cucamonga, being engaged as editor of the Cucamonga Times, which had been established a few years before. She served the community in the capacity of editor of the newspaper from about 1913 until shortly after the United States entered the World war. Her brilliant mind was recognized not only locally, but throughout the southland, as well, her editorials being widely quoted in the press of the state.

A number of years ago Mrs. Kelly went to Los Angeles to reside. She was 83 years old at the time of her death.

Surviving Mrs. Kelly are two daughters, Mrs. Thorpe and Mrs. Jean Kelly Strickler, and a son, Donald Kelly, and her sister, Mrs. Granger.

The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at St. Matthias church in Los Angeles.

AUTHORITIES SPEAK ON CHINA, MIGRANT

World Fellowship Program Of Value to Many Guests Here

is now at sea, returning to Shanghai. America is almost the only safe place left in the world," she said.

Mrs. Mei and three children, a son attending business college; a daughter, who is a junior at Pomona college, and another younger daughter, are living in Claremont.

Mrs. Mei's topic was "Women of China". Her subject gave her an opportunity to explain the part that the missionary education movement in China has played, inasmuch as it has been the means of opening up new worlds for women.

"The achievements of women in China in the last decade are almost unbelievable," she said. "Women are now admitted to all professions and occupy important posts in government and industry. Their progress is all the more remarkable because women in China had to overcome older, more firmly fixed traditions than in almost any other country."

Historically, however, says Mrs. Mei, women have not always been suppressed. One thousand years ago women occupied a more important role. The Manchu dynasty, however, exalted the male."

In conclusion, Mrs. Mei implored the audience "not to abandon the missionary work." She quoted Pearl Buck as saying that the hope of the Chinese lies in their superior "tranquil" philosophy, which will eventually triumph over the so-called genius of the Japanese.

DR. F. J. WHITE

Dr. F. J. White, former president of Shanghai university, spoke following Mrs. Mei's address. He emphasized the cultural heritage of the Chinese, reminding his audience that their civilization antedated ours by thousands of years.

The afternoon speaker was Dr. John Payne, National Missions executive of the California Synod.

MIGRANT PROBLEM

"Why is our migrant labor problem worse than it was when the Chinese, Mexicans and Filipinos lived in labor camps?" asked the speaker. The answer he gave was "We do not mind if aliens starve to death, but when our own citizens starve to death, someone is going to make a racket, and we don't like a racket."

"Migrants are not welcomed in any of the towns near which they live," commented the speaker. "Townspeople do not want migrant children to mingle with their own children."

"Your counties are basically agricultural. Go see for yourselves how the farm laboring classes live," advised the speaker.

The mission head feels that the migrants are greatly in need of the help which the Presbyterian church is offering.

A capacity crowd filled the church auditorium for both the morning and afternoon lectures. Representatives were present from practically every church in the two counties, and many Ontario and Upland women from other churches were also present. Mrs. H. S. Bailey of the Upland church presided.

Exhibits of rare books, porcelain and other Chinese objects were shown by Dr. White. Mrs. Leisa Bronson showed pictures and literature of migrants in another room.

CHAFFEY ELEVENS POINT TO OPENING OF GRID SEASON

Jaysee at Ventura Tonight With Tigers Meeting Corona Next Week

In Ventura tonight for their second practice game of the season, the Chaffey jaysee Panthers are concerned about the outcome, but they are more interested in getting ready for the heavy league schedule ahead.

The 11 men picked to open tonight's game up north probably will not be in the fracas long because Coaches Heiser, Meek and White plan to use many reserves. Chaffey lost its first practice game in Long Beach a week ago, 6 to 12.

First opportunity to see the Panthers in action on the home field will come next week, when the San Diego State college B eleven will be here. League play opens against San Bernardino the following week.

As to the Chaffey high school eleven, the outlook is brighter than Coach Muggs Mitchell usually paints the early season dope. While there are not many lettermen, the squad as a whole is performing in a more advanced style than is the usual case. Practice games at Corona and at Fullerton on successive Fridays precede start of the regular schedule.

Coach Mitchell has lined up a first team as follows: Ends, Hugh Curtis and Duane Masker; tackles, Dean Anderson and Burt Van Fleet; guards, Angelo Rodriquez and Emmett McGuire; center, Clinton Reed; quarterback, Hollis Hartley; halfbacks, Wayne Melendrez and Bill Bonillas, and fullback, Bill Standlea. The second team includes: Dale Hewett and Dick Houlette at ends; Nando Miglietta and Chuch Kuhns, tackles; Glen Baker and Clyde Derrick, guards; Jim Benson, center; Alfredo Lewis, quarter; Frank Ward and John Boyles, halves, and Howard Gluyas, fullback.

WARNED

There was quite a crowd round the elephant in the menagerie, when a small boy darted out and offered the huge animal a bun.

Just as the elephant was extending its trunk to grab the offering, there came a harassed woman's voice from the crowd:

"Mind, Willie! Mind he don't sting you!"

It's no trouble at all to find trouble.

Cucamonga-Alta Loma

P.-T. A. PLANS MADE

Resumption of activities by the Alta Loma Parent-Teacher association occurred Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Claude McKee, president, held a meeting of the executive board at the school house.

Suggested general plans for the year were discussed and it was decided to begin the annual membership campaign on Monday, Oct. 7, when a prize will be offered to the school room in which the students secure the largest number of parents as P.-T. A. members. Mrs. Francis Wilson is membership chairman and will direct the campaign with the aid of the pupils.

The board also considered plans for the annual harvest dinner to be held this fall, but no definite date was set.

First meeting of the association will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 8, when the speaker will be one of the supervisors from the San Bernardino office of the county superintendent of schools. The eighth grade mothers will be hostesses during the social hour.

POLITICAL PARADE

BY CLEM WHITAKER

(Editor's Note: This is the concluding article in a series of three describing what State Government is doing to fortify California's home defense.)

Shock troops of the state legislature, in the defense set-up, are eight lawmakers named as a special sub-committee to work with the board of experts which is mobilizing industrial California for any period of emergency.

The legislature's "minute men" are Senator John Phillips of Banning, Senator Roy J. Nielsen of Sacramento, Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville (President Pro Tem of the Senate), Assemblywoman Jeanette E. Daley of San Diego, Assemblyman C. Don Field of Los Angeles, Assemblyman Gordon H. Garland of Tulare county (Speaker of the Assembly), Assemblyman Frederick F. Houser of Los Angeles and Assemblyman Albert C. Wollenberg of San Francisco.

And that committee will recommend to the next Legislature:

1. That the Legislature enact a law barring all political parties from the ballot which do not subscribe to the principles of the American form of government.

2. That men called to the colors be protected in their employment in private life and that companies and firms affording such protection be given a special award of merit.

3. That a suitable bill be drafted to protect the employes of all governmental agencies in their right to return to employment after having served their country in a defense program.

4. That some satisfactory form of moratorium be decided upon to protect men, called to service, who are buying their homes under FHA, or some other plan of deferred payments.

5. That Treasure Island, now the site of the Exposition, be maintained as an army or navy depot.

6. That steps be taken to protect California's huge oil storage tanks and pipe lines, in cooperation with the federal government.

7. That at least some of the ferries on San Francisco Bay be retained as a standby service in the event the bridges are bombed or otherwise rendered unserviceable.

Between now and January, when the Legislature meets, there will doubtless be many other developments. But those, at least, are some of the steps which are now contemplated to fortify California's home defense.

AT PADUA THEATER

Talents of five new members of the Mexican Players now are contributing to gay entertainment at the Padua Hills theatre in connection with the staging of "Duelo Musical", romantic comedy of a musical duel.

In the foyer during luncheons and dinners, the rich tenor voice of Enrique Lerma and the whirlwind dancing of Marquita Hernandez augment vocal, dancing and orchestral numbers by other members of the group.

Behind the footlights, Maria Prado, in a principal role of the play, surprises patrons with a quaint contralto solo. The contralto voice of Conchita Cervantes and the dancing of Lilia Aguilar are other special features.

AT PASADENA PLAYHOUSE

Laughter will light the lamps at Pasadena Community Playhouse on Monday evening, when the fall play slate opens with Thornton Wilder's comedy, "The Merchant of Yonkers". Three other plays team with the Wilder farce to make up the quartet of fall playbills which brings the Playhouse round the drama corner into the 24th season.

Following the close of "The Merchant of Yonkers" on Oct. 12, comes Damon Runyon's amazing and amusing farce, "A Slight Case of Murder," Oct. 15-26.
